

Safed Gunja (White Abrus) based Indigenous Herbal Medicines for Sexual Health (Aphrodisiac): Pankaj Oudhia's Medicinal Plant Database

Pankaj Oudhia

Abstract

Abrus precatorius or Gunja is considered as toxic plant. In Traditional Healing of India it is used both internally as well as externally. In order to eliminate its toxins the Traditional Healers practice Traditional Allelopathic Knowledge. They also use Traditional Purification Methods. Use of Abrus with other medicinal species is another way to remove its toxicity. For Sexual Health, use of White Abrus based Herbal Oil is popular since time immemorial. The ancient literature gives information about it. But still there are hundreds of variants of this Herbal Oil exist in far areas where Traditional Healers recommend it. This Traditional Knowledge is not available in documented form to the modern researchers. Pankaj Oudhia has documented these formulations in its original form.
